The Alabama Department of Agriculture and Industries will now be accepting online dicamba training courses.

In light of the current situation involving COVID-19 and the Alabama Department of Public Health's recommendation to limit social gatherings, it has become evident that some participants were not able to attend the dicamba training courses that were scheduled. As such, ADAI will now accept the online training courses offered by Bayer and BASF to accommodate anyone who did not have the opportunity to attend an officially scheduled course. The courses can be accessed by following the links provided below:

BASF Engenia Online Training Course:

<https://www.engeniastewardship.com/#/training>

Bayer XtendiMax Online Training Course:

<https://training.roundupreadyxtend.com/>

Make sure to save a copy of the certificate of completion to provide proof of having attended the course to ADAI.

Thanks,
