Information provided by Alabama Department of Agriculture and Industries, Pesticide Management Section

On June 3, 2020, the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit issued an opinion vacating the federal registrations for the dicamba herbicides Engenia (EPA Reg. No. 7969-345), FeXapan (EPA Reg. No. 352-913) and Extendimax (EPA Reg. No. 524-617). The federal registration for Tavium (EPA Reg. No. 100-1623) is NOT impacted by this opinion. A copy of this opinion can be found here.

The following status and guidance are being provided for Alabama dealers, distributors, and users/applicators. BECAUSE THIS GUIDANCE CAN CHANGE SIGNIFICANTLY ON A DAILY BASIS, YOU ARE ENCOURAGED TO VISIT THE ADAI WEBPAGE FREQUENTLY.

1. ADAI has contacted U.S. EPA for guidance, but at this time has received none. This could change at any time.
2. These three products currently have state registration. ADAI has not initiated any suspension or cancellation orders for these products at this point. Therefore, the state registrations are still valid until any necessary suspension or cancellation process can be taken.
3. Until further notice, under state pesticide law, these products can continue to be distributed and used in Alabama.
4. Again, because this guidance can change significantly on a daily basis, you are encouraged to visit the ADAI website frequently for updates.

ADAI will continue to update you as more information comes in and as any guidance changes.
